That's it. You and your wife are two, but if you don't take care of your health you will leave her all alone and perhaps she won't be able to get along without you very well, either. If you have a dull headache or pain in the back, or don't feel just right anywhere, it is probably due to KIDNEY TROUBLE, and you must look out for it.

Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy was intended for just such cases as yours. Don't wait until you are laid up in bed.

Buy a bottle now, and don't let the disease get the upper hand of you. All Druggists sell it, or you can send to us and we will mail sample free.

'The Children's Favorite Poet.
Henry Wadsworth Longfellow!
How we love the name of that gentle gray-haired poet whose great warm heart thrilled through lines of beautiful verse to waken the slumbering souls of his fellowmen—cheering the disconsolate, shedding sunshine of hope where all was despair, till with renewed courage once more the weary pilgrim lifted his heavy cross and toiled bravely on.

Many homes have felt that sweet grand influence as thoughts penned by that master hand became infused in daily life.

"The Courtship of Miles Standish" is a historic poem relating to the habits and customs of the early settlers of Plymouth. This little romance is pleasingly written immortalizing the name of that brave old Captain, who "could march up to a fortress and summon the place to surrender" but dared not face a perchance refusal from the laughing lips of Priscilla.

The fine picturesque scenes in "Hiawatha," a story of Indian legend, woven with vivid descriptions of savage life, rank among the best of the poet's works.

And the tale of Acadie, "Evangeline," full of sweet, sorrowful pathos, tells of a maiden's life of Indian legend, woven with vivid descriptions of savage life, rank among the best of the poet's works.

Interesting Relics.

George Stewart, watchman at the Kezar Falls Woolen Co., has some very interesting relics in the shape of letters, Rifle Volunteers' drill and target practice Almanac for 1881, Card of Company prize meetings and sectional roll of Company L, 3d Lanarkshire Rifle Vol. He also has a paper napkin on which a menu is printed and it is such a perfect state of preservation that all the lines are perfectly legible.

It will be remembered that Mr. Stewart is a Scotchman by birth and all of these relics have been brought to this country and treasured through all these years by him. Mr. Stewart's stories of his native land are very interesting. He is a great reader but does not confine himself to the American papers but has several foreign as well. He takes a deep interest in sports of all kinds. I have personally read several letters from his relatives in Scotland, and in speaking of our late President nothing but the deepest sympathy and respect dwells in that country. As Mr. Stewart has been here nearly twenty years, he thinks of visiting his old home in Scotland in the near future.

An Exciting Runaway.

An exciting runaway occurred here, Friday, Oct. 4, in which one carriage was entirely wrecked and another badly damaged. The horse is owned by Osman Stanley, Kezar Falls. Being a spirited animal and not having had the necessary exercise he decided to take it of her own free will. Mr. Stanley had just harnessed and had one foot on the step when she bounded away like a deer. Fortunately Mr. Stanley escaped without injuries.

No accidents occurred until she passed through this place. A team was hit at Edwin Libby's and in passing the two wagons collided overturning both. This greatly increased the speed of the frightened horse which bounded away like the wind with the wagon dragging upside down behind her.

Making the turn at Stearns corner she continued up the Brownfield road leaving pieces of the almost demolished wagon behind. She was finally stopped about two miles above here by Mr. Edgecomb, the mail carrier, without further damages. She escaped with a few bruises and cuts caused by wagon. The carriage overturned at the place escaped with the springs of the axles, which Mr. Stanley very courteously offered to repair.

Eugene Stanley is making needed repairs on the mill property leased by him of Allen Garner.

William Garner, Elwood Elliott, William Merrill and son Ralph took the opportunity of visiting the Pan-American Exposition through the White Mountains, Saturday the 5th. Kezar Falls, was occupied, Friday and Saturday evenings, Oct. 4 and 5, by Earle & Howard's show. Mr. Howard is without question master of the bugle and tenor drum. His exhibitions on same were well worth the price of admission. The moving pictures and illustrated songs help spice the entertainment and keep the audience in an attentive attitude. They had a good house both evenings.

Adams and grandson of Enoch Adams, one of the first settlers in Andover. She spent all her married life in Andover and until the death of her husband in November, 1881. She was a kind, devoted daughter, taking care of her father and mother Adams and also a stepmother in their declining years. She was always ready to help as a neighbor in sickness and death, rejoicing with them in their prosperity, as well as a hearty sympathizer in adversity. She spent her last years with her son Lewis in Haverhill. Coming with her two sons and families to spend the summer, was suddenly stricken down by disease and passed from earth, Sept. 5. All was done for her that medical skill could accomplish, but in vain. She attended Rev. J. C. Snow's church in Haverhill, Mass. Her funeral was attended by Rev. G. P. Hannaford of the M. E. church, Sept. 10, from her old home she loved so well at South Andover. She leaves two sons and five grandchildren.

NORTH NORWAY.

Awaiting Higher Prices.

Apples in this section are mostly picked and in the cellars and the producers are waiting for the buyers to offer them three dollars for them.

The telephone line from here to the village is well under way. It will also run to J. E. McIntire & Son's, Greenwood, and West Paris.

H. C. Frost, after nearly two months stay with his friends, has gone back to Aurora, Ill., and resumed work for the C. B. & Q. R. Company.

C. A. Frost is at West Bethel working for A. J. Haskell on his store. Mr. Haskell is building a new house with a rent above for himself and family. A grain and feed mill, moved a house several rods and put an addition to it making a double house to rent. He also has two child mills, one at Bethel which he is running himself and the other at the mill looking after his grocery store and grain business.

We hear there is another school house wanted at the village. It seems to us that if scholars were sent to school in the rural schools until they were fitted for high school there would be less need of more school room in the village. Perhaps it would be well for our supervisor to see that children attend school in their own district where the teachers have plenty of time to give instruction than to crowd the village teachers so hard.

John Thatche of Rumford—nuisance, 223.27

Charles Dunham was sentenced to 30 days in jail, which was the original sentence. As he has been in jail two weeks or more since he appealed the case, he gets so much extra by reason of his appeal.

Edgar R. Briggs was fined $50 or 30 days on the single and $100 or 60 days on the common seller charge.

William O'Donnell's is a case where the cashier made a mistake in reading the figures on a check and overpaid him something more than $100. He having already been in jail five months, on motion of the county attorney the indictment was placed on file, and he was discharged on his own recognizance.

Monday morning opened with a Buckfield case before a jury—James P. Jewett vs. Charles T. Ridley—suit to recover for use of furniture of the defendant. Verdict for defense. Bridgman for plaintiff; Dyer for defendant.

The verdict for referee in the Robinson case was $35, not $45.

At noon, Tuesday, all the indictments except one had been made public. Those not named before are:

David Morgan, Rumford—assault and battery.

Paul L. Douglas, Brownfield—assault and battery; pleaded not guilty.

George Legere, Rumford—single sale.

Ingalls, Penley and Douglass pleaded on Monday.

Ingalls was put on trial on the nuisance charge, Monday.

The case occupied a day in trial, being given to the jury shortly before dinner, Tuesday. They took three hours to convict him. Dennis Meagher of Portland was defendant's attorney. On this case he paid $100 fine and $75 costs.

There have been a number of divorce hearings, but in all the cases the justice reserved his decision to the last day of court.

At a bar meeting held on Tuesday afternoon, it was arranged that on the first afternoon of the next term of court, memorial exercises will be held in honor of the late John C. Swasey.

Penley's case was fixed up by payment of $20. He found a lost bear trap and made it to return it to the owner, whom he knew. He was technically guilty, but it doesn't appear that he really tried to hide the property from the lawful owner, or to convert it to his own use.

The Barnes v. Rumford case went to the jury, Friday forenoon.

Memorial exercises in honor of the late Luther H. Ludden, esq. will be held on the first afternoon of the next term of court.

Scrofula

What is commonly inherited is not scrofula but the scrofulous disposition. This is generally and chiefly indicated by cutaneous eruptions; sometimes by paleness, nervousness and more or less general debility.

The disease elicited Mrs. K. T. Snyder, Union St., Troy, Ohio, when she was eighteen years old, manifesting itself by a bunch in her neck, which caused great pain, was lanced and became a running sore.

It afflicted the daughter of Mrs. J. H. Jones, Parker City, Ind., when she was thirteen years old, and developed so rapidly that when she was eighteen she had eleven running sores on her neck and about her ears.

These sufferers were not benefited by professional treatment, but according to their own unsolicited statement, were completely cured by

Hood's Sarsaparilla

That positively corrects the scrofulous disposition and radically and permanently cures the disease.

IT'S NO USE—

"I'm simply can't make any sort of success in business if he's tortured with backache. That means if his kidneys are out of order. Backache is really kidney ache. It is one of the first indications of kidney disease. It's bad enough of itself, but it leads to a great deal worse. Unless it is stopped. How?"

Doan's Kidney Pills

There's not a form of kidney trouble that this wonderful little remedy will not cure, and the people stay cured. Mr. John C. McIlcon, grocer and provision merchant at the corner of Bridge and 7th streets, Lowell, Mass., says—

"In the spring of 1899 I was forced from severe pain in the back, prostate gland, and kidneys to the use of Doan's Kidney Pills at Ellingwood & Co's drug store, at the corner of Merrimack and Central streets, and take a course of the treatment. It was speedily followed by the same relief, and up to date I have not had a symptom of a return."
